This policy covers Relationships Education (Junior School) and Relationships and Sex Education (Senior School). It also covers the elements of Health Education where it relates to Sex Education.

1. Definition:

Relationships Education

At Bedford Modern School we believe that our high-quality Relationship & Sex Education will stay with our students for life. RSE is about providing students with the knowledge, skills and confidence to make safe, healthy and informed relationship choices as young people and in the future as adults. At BMS we are committed to the important role that RSE plays in students' holistic education and we aim to build on the RSE programmes each year.

Relationship and Sex Education (Junior School)

At BMS Junior School we focus on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships, including friendships, family relationships and relationships with other children and adults. These principles of positive relationships also apply to online relationships. At BMS we understand that this requires sensitivity and is based on the knowledge of the students and their personal circumstances.

Through health education (puberty) we believe that it is fundamental for students to develop positive attitudes and knowledge about the body. It is essential that students are prepared for the changes that adolescence will bring. We believe that it is important for Junior School students to have a basic knowledge of sex education and our programme is tailored to the age, physical and emotional maturity of the students.

The theme of consent is introduced in Year 5 and then built on in Year 6.

Relationships and Sex Education (Senior School)

RSE at Bedford Modern School is pioneering an innovative curriculum fit for the world our young people are living in. We believe in empowering our students to understand their bodies, to reflect on their relationship values and to be able to openly discuss relationships and sex. We believe that this approach will reduce the risk of unhealthy and abusive relationships. RSE is not about encouraging teenagers to become sexually active nor is it about promoting any particular lifestyle or relationship choice.

The theme of consent underpins our RSE workshops and modules. We introduce students to the importance of consent, and this is revisited on a yearly basis and adapted to the age of each year group.

2. Aims and Objectives

At Bedford Modern School our Relationships and Relationships and Sex Education Programme seeks to:

Whole School Aims:

- To ensure there is progression in delivery through the school from Junior into Senior and on into Sixth Form.
- Be age appropriate and differentiated to the needs of the students including SEN, autistic, vulnerable, visually impaired students and any other disabilities that require a bespoke curriculum.
- Present information in an objective, balanced and sensitive manner.
- Encourage the development of social skills and strategies, which will reduce the risk of exploitation, misunderstanding and abuse.
- Develop a clear understanding of the importance of consent; how to give, withdraw, ask for and recognise consent.
- Reinforce the importance of loving relationships, rooted in mutual respect.
- To ensure that BAME, LGBTQ+ and people with disabilities are positively represented in our curriculum.
- Ensure students can identify the qualities of healthy and unhealthy relationships.
- Prepare students for the journey from adolescence to adulthood.
- Provide students with a safe environment to learn about sexual orientation and gender identity, reinforcing the importance of mutual respect and tackling LGBTQ+ misconceptions, homophobia, transphobia, bi-phobia and gender stereotypes
- Place paramount importance on online safety and the risks of using social media.

Junior School Aims:

- Prepare students for puberty and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene.
- Help students develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy.
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships.
- Teach students the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies.
- Teach students how a baby is conceived and born.
- Help students to identify where they can seek help & support regarding puberty & sex education.

Senior School Aims:

- Be fully inclusive of all genders, sexual orientations and all types of families (LGBTQ+ inclusive).
- Explore the skills needed for effective parenting and how to assess one's readiness to be a parent.
- To represent all types of families and to explore the different methods for starting a family.
- Allow students to examine the physical and emotional implications of sexual behaviour and to explore the arguments for delaying sexual activity.
- Make students aware of how and where to seek help if they are in an unhealthy or abusive relationship.
- Ensure that students have a clear understanding of sexual and reproductive biology, including knowledge of HIV and other sexually transmitted diseases.
- Ensure students understand the different risks associated with various types of sexual activity and understand how to engage in safe sexual activity by understanding a range of contraception.
- Place paramount importance on online safety and the risks of using social media and the internet for sexual purposes.
- Develop students' understanding of the dangers of pornographic material.

3. Legal Requirements

Under the Education Act (1993) and the Education Reform Act (1998) all schools are required to maintain a statement of Policy regarding RSE and make it available to parents on request. This policy complies with DfE Guidance on Sex & Relationships Education (0116/2000) and the supplementary guidance Sex & Relationships Education for the 21st Century 2014.

From September 2020 the guidance document 'Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education: statutory guidance for governing bodies, proprietors, head teachers, principals, senior leadership teams, teachers' will become statutory. This document clearly sets out the curriculum content that schools must deliver on RSE and Health Education. This document contains information on what schools should do and sets out the legal duties with which schools must comply when teaching Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education. Unless otherwise specified, 'school' means all schools, whether maintained, non-maintained or independent schools, including academies and free schools, non-maintained special schools, maintained special schools and alternative provision, including student referral units. See appendix 1 for further information on curriculum content.

4. Course Content

Detailed content of the Relationships and Relationships & Sex curriculum will be made available to parents on request. Our curriculum content will cover the required themes as set out in Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education: statutory guidance for governing bodies, proprietors, head teachers, principals, senior leadership teams, teachers- See appendix 2 for our programme of study in each year group.

- Family
- Respectful relationships
- Online and media
- Being safe
- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

Relationships and RSE curriculum for SEND students

Where possible all students will remain with their tutor/form group for RSE lessons. As with any lesson, tutors will differentiate for students with SEND and those who are vulnerable. This may mean differentiated work or alternative delivery depending on the nature of the need. The SENDCo and Head of PSHE/Deputy Head in the Junior School will make the relevant plans at the start of each academic year, in consultation with parents.

5. Sensitive or Controversial Topics

1. During Relationships & Sex Education lessons (and at other times) controversial topics may arise. The judgement of individual tutors will decide as to whether the subjects are suitable for class discussion. Tutors will try to answer students' questions honestly, sensitively and in such a way that takes the context into account. In all circumstances, the professional judgement of the teacher must come in to play.
2. If a question is felt to be too explicit, the tutor will acknowledge it and deal with it outside the whole class setting.
3. Tutors should establish a set of ground rules so that young people are aware of parameters.
4. Students should never be asked to disclose their sexual orientation or personal information about themselves or others.
5. Tutors and students will show respect for all genders, sexualities and different types of families.
6. Any concerns that arise about sexual abuse or any other safeguarding issues must be followed up under the school's safeguarding procedures.
7. Where discussions about sexual behaviour arise from apparently unrelated topics, teachers will give attention to relevant issues, again using professional judgement.
8. HIV/AIDS - Informative discussions covering the transmission of the HIV virus may, by the very nature of the subject, include discussion of certain sexual acts and practices. Tutors will deal sensitively and objectively with information of this kind and will always avoid the development of bias and prejudice. Tutors will challenge stereotypes and misconceptions about HIV.
9. Tutors should also be aware that they may be dealing with students who are HIV positive or who have close links with others who are.

6. Organisation and Delivery

Junior School

1. Our RSE programme is an integral part of our whole school PSHE education provision and is delivered in the autumn & spring term in the Junior School.
2. The planning takes on a spiral approach, which gradually revisits and reintroduces topics at a deeper and more complex level in each year group.
3. RSE is delivered by the form tutor during two 25-minute sessions each week and will be taught through a range of teaching methods and interactive activities.
4. Identified SEND or vulnerable students will receive a differentiated RSE programme as required (outlined in section 5 Course Content).
5. Baseline assessment at the start of each RSE topic allows the form tutor to differentiate the programme to the form group and students are encouraged to reflect on their own learning and progress at the end.

Senior School

1. Relationships & Sex Education is taught in Y7-11 through PSHE tutorials and also as part of the extended tutorial programme.
2. All students within the school have equal access to Relationships & Sex Education. Topics are revisited in order to allow provision for previous absence and different levels of understanding, maturity and learning abilities. The curriculum is progressive.
3. Identified SEND or vulnerable students will receive a differentiated RSE programme as required (outlined in section 5 Course Content).
4. All form tutors deliver PSHE to their tutor group. Teachers and all those contributing to Relationships & Sex education will work within an agreed framework as set out in this policy.
5. The School will work with external specialist organisations, consultants and healthcare professionals to ensure our curriculum reflects current best practice (see below).

7. Working with Parents

1. Parental support is integral to the success of our RSE curriculum. While we have an educational and legal obligation to provide young people with Relationships & Sex Education, we respect the primary role of the parents in educating their children about these matters.
2. At the start of the academic year a letter with a PSHE Year Overview of the schemes of learning will be sent to parents, this will include the content for the RSE element of the course. The RSE policy can also be viewed on the school portal.
3. This letter will also invite any feedback to be sent to the Head of PSHE. Parents are encouraged to provide feedback or raise questions regarding the course content. As key to maintaining effective relationships with our parent body, all views are listened to.
4. Parents/guardians are welcome to explore our RSE curriculum further by requesting to view it alongside the teaching materials.
5. Parents will be invited to participate in workshops relating to the RSE curriculum that their child is receiving. Where appropriate, resources will also be shared with the parent body.

8. Right to Withdraw

1. Parents do not have the right to withdraw their child from Relationships or Health education either in the Junior School or the Senior School

2. Under the Education Act 1993, parents have the right to withdraw their children from either part, or all, of the Sex Education provided by the school. However, this does not include aspects of Sex Education covered by the Science National Curriculum.
3. Initially, consent will be sought at the beginning of Y5, however, prior to the summer term further details regarding the curriculum content will be communicated to parents. Parents wishing to withdraw their children from sex education must contact the Deputy Head of the Junior School who will discuss with parents the benefits of receiving this important education and any detrimental effects that withdrawal might have on the child. BMS will document the process.
4. Parents with concerns or considering withdrawing their child for Sex Education in the Senior School should in the first instance contact their child's Head of Year, who will invite the parent to a meeting to discuss their concerns and reassure the parents of the health and educational benefits of RSE. In most cases this resolves any concerns but should parents still wish to withdraw their child then a request should be made in writing to the Headteacher.

9. Confidentiality

1. Effective RSE should enable and encourage young people to talk to a trusted adult if they are in a sexual relationship or contemplating being so. It is desirable but not always possible that that person should be their parent or carer. The law allows health professionals to see, and in some circumstances to treat, young people confidentially. Part of this process includes counselling and discussion about talking to parents.
2. When a member of staff learns from an under 16 year old that they are having, or are contemplating having sexual intercourse, they must refer the matter to the schools Designated Safeguarding Lead, or if a sixteen year old student is contemplating having sexual intercourse with a student below the age of 16, who will lead on the most appropriate course of action in line with the school's Safeguarding Policy.

10. The Role of Health Professions in the Delivery of Relationships and Sex Education

The school will work with health professionals in the development and implementation of the schools Relationships & Sex programme. Any visitors used to help in the delivery of the Relationships and Relationships & Sex Education programme will be clear about the boundaries of their input and will be aware of the Relationships & Sex Education curriculum, relevant school policies and their work will be planned and agreed in advance. The school is planning to work with charities including Brook, NCT, our Police Liaison Officer and Chelsea's Choice.

11. Monitoring and Evaluation

The implementation of this policy will be monitored and evaluated through the normal processes of Departmental Review that apply to all areas of the curriculum.

The school will establish regularly opportunities to garner parental feedback regarding the new RSE curriculum. Parents will also be invited to attend Health Education (Puberty & Hygiene) and Sex Education workshops aimed at communicating the curriculum content which will also allow for feedback to be provided.

The schemes will be frequently updated in accordance with changes in legislation and are abreast of updates by the ISI Regulatory Requirements.

Monitoring and Evaluation will be used to ensure that all teachers are delivering the PSHE curriculum effectively. This will take the form of lesson drop in, learning walks, end of topic quizzes, as appropriate, and the sharing of effective resources.
